Hecior: Cat About Town
Notorious Gossip

"I'm going to need you mugs to help me. I just told my wife I was divorcing her."

"Then you don't want us, boss. You want a lawyer."

"No, I don't. My wife's waiting for me outside."

She (gushingly)—"Will you love me when I am old?"

He—"Love you? I shall idolize you. I shall worship the ground under your little feet. I shall—um—er—You are not going to look like your mother, are you?"

A stranger came into a small-town grocery store and asked for all the old eggs on hand. As he put the last one into the bag, the grocer said facetiously, "It looks as though you were going to see 'Hamlet' played to-night."

"No, sir," came the answer grimly. "I am going to play Hamlet to-night."

Jones—"I see by the papers that Scotty McNutt was punched last night while walking down the street entirely nude."

Smith—"What was the plea?"

Jones—"Safety first."

Smith—"Whadda you mean, safety first?"

Jones—"He told the judge he was on his way to a strip poker game."

The teacher had written 92.7 on the blackboard, and to show the effect of multiplying by 10, had rubbed out the decimal point.

"Now, Alfred," she said, "where is the decimal point?"

"On the duster, miss," promptly replied Alfred.

"Some people thirst after fame, others after wealth, others after love," said the romantic young man, with a sigh.

The object of his affections was not in the same mood, however.

"And there is something all people thirst after," she said.

"Yes?" asked the lover, eagerly.

"Salt fish!" was the crushing reply.

A meek-looking little boy went up to an elderly man near a post office, and said, "Will this get to Yorkshire in the morning?" holding a letter in his hand.

"Yes, if you post it before 6 p.m.," the old gentleman replied.

The boy then said, still more meekly, "That's a pity, because it is addressed to Brighton."

Then he darted off, in the direction of a sweet shop.

Prison Warden: It's just been found out that you didn't commit that crime you've been in for all these years, and so the Governor has pardoned you.

Innocent Man: Um—I'm pardoned, am I?

Prison Warden: Y-e-s, but don't go yet. I'll have to telegraph for further instructions.

Innocent Man: What about?

Prison Warden: Seems to me that considerin' you hadn't any business here, you ought to pay the State for your board.

The day after a somewhat stormy by-election meeting, the prospective candidate, looking rather battered, was discussing the position with his agent.

"I think you're getting at them," the agent said, hopefully. "They seemed more inclined to listen to you last night. You are becoming more popular."

"Popular!" snapped the candidate. "Why, they simply pelted me with rotten eggs."

"Yes, I know; but remember that they used to throw bricks."

ROYAL NAVY

Captain C. A. G. Hutchison

(Special: Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 19.

Commander C. A. G. Hutchison, who has retired at his own request, with the rank of captain, has been nearly 33 years in the Navy, during which he has commanded a number of ships. He was succeeded in February last as Admiralty Liaison Officer for R.N.R. and Merchant Navy duties in the Port of London.

Captain Hutchison first went to sea in January, 1905, as midshipman of H.M.S. Victorious, second flagship in the Channel Fleet. Throughout the War he was in command of torpedo craft, serving in torpedo boat No. 21 and the destroyers Vigilant, Ettrick, Mastiff, and Hope. Subsequently he qualified in staff duties, and after his promotion to commander in June, 1924, was in the Plans Division, Admiralty; Chief Staff Officer to Rear-Admiral Tweedie in the Yangtze; and staff officer for operations and intelligence with Admiral Tyrwhitt at the Nore. His last duty abroad was in command of the cruiser Vindictive in reserve. A keen motor-cyclist, he was the winner in 1927 of the Arbutnot Auto-Cycle Trophy.

CHINA STATION CRUISES

H.M.S. Folkestone, Capt. W. R. Patterson, which has been making a cruise in Japanese waters, and has already visited Nagasaki and Miyajima, is now at Yokohama, where she is expected to remain until September 29. She will probably visit Fochow before returning to Hong Kong on October 10.

The Kent, Capt. I. B. E. Tower, D.S.C., flagship of Admiral Sir Frederic Dreyer, which has been at Wei-hai-wei since August 9, is expected to leave there on October 10 for a visit to Chinwangtao. The Cornwall, in which Captain H. C. Phillips is relieving Captain R. B. Davies, V.C., D.S.O., A.F.C., in command, is to leave Wei-hai-wei on October 1 for Chinwangtao, to remain there until the arrival of the flagship.

This Simple Treatment Quickly Heals ECZEMA AND OTHER SKIN ERUPTIONS

The amazing curative powers of the Cuticura treatment are due to a unique combination of soothing, healing, antiseptic medicaments. Nothing known to medical science will give you quicker, more lasting relief than Cuticura. It stops the tormenting itch instantly; gives you days of peace and comfort and nights of restful sleep. But, best of all, Cuticura is an amazing healer which will clear up the most stubborn cases of Eczema, Psoriasis and other burning, disfiguring skin eruptions.

How Cuticura Heals

Wash the affected part night and morning with Cuticura Soap and hot water to cleanse away poisonous matter and irritating secretions. Then gently apply Cuticura Ointment. This daily treatment relieves itching and allays inflammation at once. The soothing, healing, antiseptic Cuticura penetrates to the depths of the eruption. It destroys the lurking germs which keep the disease active; it heals the festering sores and steadily establishes a healthy condition of the skin which leads to complete recovery. The efficacy of this treatment will prove a revelation to sufferers who have been brought to the verge of despair.

COMING-OF-AGE GIFTS

Ayrshire Laird's Son

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 28. The village of Barrhill was in fête on Saturday for the celebration of the coming of age of Mr. David Wallace, eldest son of Captain Euan Wallace, M.P., Parliamentary Under-Secretary, Home Office, and proprietor of Kildonan estates, which include the greater part of Barrhill.

The tenantry were entertained to lunch by Captain and Mrs. Wallace at Kildonan House, when the health of Mr. David Wallace was proposed by the Rev. William Gordon, minister of Barrhill.

Captain and Mrs. Wallace entertained the tenants, farmers, employees, and friends to tea, also at Kildonan House, prior to which the presentation was made to Mr. David Wallace of a gold watch and chain and other gifts.

Mr. Thomas Carswell, presenting Mr. David with a cheque from the tenants, employees, farmers, and merchants, intimated that Captain Wallace had decided to continue the 15 per cent. rebate on rentals of tenants, a generous concession the laird of Kildonan had made for the past three years owing to trade depression.

Votes of thanks to Captain and Mrs. Wallace were proposed by Provost W. McCreath and ex-Provost C. M. Lawson, Gt. Gov.

In the evening an entertainment and dance was given in the Barrhill War Memorial Hall by Cap-

ATTEMPT ON RECORD

Brussels To Congo

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10. A British aeroplane is likely to be used in an attempt by three Belgians to break the record set up by Mr. Ken Waller last Christmas on his flight from Brussels to the Belgian Congo. The Belgians expect to make their attempt soon.

The airmen, whose names are given in "Le Soir" as M. Mahieu, Count de Loo de Coswaren, and Commandant d'Hooze, will probably use a British De Havilland Dragon fitted with two Gipsy VI 200-h.p. engines. This is a comparatively light, fast aeroplane.

The route, under consideration is Brussels, Tunis, Sebha, Fort Lamy, Stanleyville, the "hop" over the Sahara being made by night. Each of the three occupants would pilot the machine in turn. The return would be made by the Nile and Cairo to Athens.

In December Mr. Ken Waller flew from Brussels to Leopoldville (Belgian Congo) and back in 108 hours 19 minutes in his De Havilland Comet Reine Astrid, the time on the outward flight being 51 hours.

Captain and Mrs. Wallace, to which invitations had been extended to tenantry, farmers, employees, friends and villagers on the estates. Mr. David Wallace presided.

EVEREST ATTACK

Survey Work Completed

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10. The advance expedition to Mount Everest, which has been away since the end of May preparing for the main expedition next spring, is now on its way back to England, having accomplished what it set out to do. Its objects were twofold: to make a preliminary survey of the route and to test the abilities of some new recruits. A point of 23,000 feet was reached above the North Col, and the party stayed at this height for several days, so evidence on the all-important question of acclimatization will have been obtained.

Experience has shown that climbers can be divided into those who acclimatize swiftly and those who do not. That the leader of an Everest expedition should know with certainty into which group each man falls is now known to be essential if falls is now known to be essential if time and effort during the short climbing season are to be saved. Slow "acclimatizers" should in theory be used in the first place to establish the high-altitude camps, while the quick "acclimatizers" conserve their strength at the base. The camps established, the quick "acclimatizers" would make their attempt on the summit and this, if it failed, would be followed by the attempt of the slow "acclimatizers."

BAD WEATHER

Effort must be spared, since it is not believed that a man can attempt the summit twice in one season. The advance expedition has met with bad weather and is said to have come to the conclusion that the main expedition in the spring should start much earlier than usual. Whether this is practicable or not from transport and other difficulties is not known, but everyone will hope for success in next year's grand attack on "one of the last great adventures which the surface of the earth has to offer."

GAELS CROWD THE CAPITAL

Kilts In Profusion In Edinburgh

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 28.

This week the swing of the kilt and the soft accents of Gaelic will be in evidence on every hand in Edinburgh. To-day the National Mod of An Comunn Gaidhealach opens in the Capital, and Princes Street will be nearer the average Englishman's conception of a kilted Scotland than it has been probably since the Mod was last in Edinburgh 16 years ago.

If local effort can ensure success the Edinburgh Mod deserves it, for weeks of solid work, including the raising of £1000 by a Highland Fells, have been put in by enthusiastic Gaels.

The climax of the week will be reached in the Usher Hall on Friday, when the Duchess of York will attend the final concert and present the principal prizes. On the same evening the Bard of the Mod will be crowned.

For that concert tickets were sold out some time ago, and an overflow concert is to be given in the Central Hall, which it is hoped the Duchess will also visit.

CIVIC WELCOME

There will be a civic welcome tomorrow at noon and a civic reception in the evening.

The principal shields and trophies were on view yesterday in a west end shop and attracted much interest.

Entries are down about 50 from Oban last year, but the Oban entry was a record in the history of An Comunn. There are 332 junior and 640 senior entries, and there are 21 aspirants for the Bardic crown.

The Mod will be followed by a Gaelic service in St. Giles' Cathedral on Sunday.

Progress

A camera that takes in 400 miles in one shot has been invented. Till now the newspapers have been able to photograph only a few acres of bathing-girls at a time.

Good Morning!

PREPARE YOUR FACE FOR A PAINLESS SHAVE

PREP

Here is a NEW Shaving Joy—That Stimulates as it Soothes and Heals—A Cream With Many Personal Uses

Just 13 seconds after applying Prep you feel that glorious "Wake-up" sensation—it's the exclusive skin tonic found only in Prep. This tonic is just what you need to soothe your skin from the abuse of frequent shaving. This tonic quickly relieves the damage done by shaving, by sun, by wind, by cold and harsh waters. Because of this tonic, Prep is ideal for the many annoying skin discomforts all over the body. The family medicine cabinet—as well as your own kit—should hold a jar of Prep for quick use.

SOOTHES RASH AND ERUPTIONS
Surprising relief—even in cases of chronic skin eruptions—is often reported by Prep users.
"For more than twenty years I have been troubled periodically with an almost intolerable itching on my ankles and shins. To my very great surprise and gratification, I found Prep gave me the most instantaneous and lasting relief of any preparation I had ever tried."
—C. H. G.—MARTFORD
Since that time I have used Prep and the first sign of a head cold and it has never failed. I am very grateful for the relief it has given and as thousands of men and women suffer a similar disability (allergy) either temporary or chronic, to them I can conscientiously say TRY PREP.
—A. S. W.—Windsor, Ont., Canada

COOLS SUNBURN AND OTHER BURNS
Both are the same in nature—and Prep, the scientific burn healer, gives instant relief. A boon to bathers, cooks.
A few weeks ago my wife suffered a severe steam burn while removing a roast from the oven—all household remedies were tried without relief. Finally, as a last resort, I tried Prep, applied generously—the relief from pain was immediate—and no blisters.
—L. H. J.—LOCHMOOR, MICH.
When she spread Prep over the sunburn the relief was instant—I was in a dozen that night and enjoyed every day of my vacation. Naturally, I'll always have a jar of Prep handy.
—E. G.—DETROIT, MICH.

SMOOTHES OUT CHAPPED SKIN
No more painful chappings from winter sports. With plenty of Prep your hands stay soft, smooth, white.
—L. H. J.—LOCHMOOR, MICH.

REMOVES STING OF INSECT BITES
Prep soothes or heals them. Prep is the joy of hunter and fisherman—and gardener too!

HEALS CHAFED OR "SCALDED" SKIN
Chafes and heavyweights—take Prep with you! Prep will bring you back smiling.
I weigh over 200 pounds. My work requires constant driving. I suffer from chafing. Then I discovered Prep, which gave immediate relief—it has been a god-send to me.
—HESTER W.—DETROIT, MICH.

RELIEVES TIRED, ACHING FEET
Prep just stinks in—cooling, refreshing, soothing the sore muscles and skin. The hiker's delight.

QUICKLY STOPS BODY ODORS
Friend of dancers and debutantes! Under the arms it is safe, astringent and very effective in daily use.
It's safe everyone would be grateful if they only knew the Prep neutralizes body odors—just as effectively perspiration.
—A. R. V.—PH. G.—WINDSOR, ONT.
Before using "Prep," my third shave with the same blade would be an uncomfortable job. Now, using "Prep," I am pleased to say that this morning I got my seventh comfortable shave with the same blade.
—J. E. K.—CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

Men—Watch Your Prep!

Many men find that their women folk use Prep for their complexion, too. They say it's "just simply perfect." It's that tonic in Prep which they like, men. But they don't need to use your Prep Shaving Cream to get it. That same "wake-up" tonic is available in Prep Skin Cream—a delicate, pink, all-purpose cream that guards against Skin-Age. So—tell them to buy themselves a jar of Prep Sensitive Skin Cream—it contains that same tonic and it's made specially for women—as wonderful for their skin as Prep Shaving Cream is for shaving.

PREP WILL NOT Stain Clothing. Sheets or Towels

Obtainable at all Drug & Department Stores $1.00 per jar.

ONE JAR FREE FOR EVERY JAR PURCHASED

STAPLES SURPRISES

HAM AND VEGETABLES

NEW VEGETABLE DISHES

BOILED HAM WITH SPINACH

Pare off the under part and saw off shank of ham. Tie the ham in a clean cloth and cook in boiling water, allowing 20 minutes to the pound. When cooked, remove cloth and skin. Lay in a stew pan or a deep baking dish and pour over it a cup of cider and pears in the oven to brown. Baste frequently with cider and when the ham has absorbed the liquid, serve on hot platter with spinach.

BOILED HAM WITH VEGETABLES

- 1 shank end ham
- 5 small potatoes
- 1 small head of cabbage, cut in fifths
- 5 small onions
- 3 small turnips, cut in quarters
- 3 medium-sized carrots, cut in quarters, lengthwise

Plunge the ham in a pan of hot water and simmer one hour before adding the vegetables. At the end of the first hour's cooking, add the turnips and when these have cooked 15 minutes add the potatoes and cabbage; cook 30 minutes longer, remove vegetables carefully so as not to break in pieces and serve on a platter. Arrange with the ham in the center of the platter and surround with vegetables.

Frozen Salads

PEAR

Drain one can of pears and cut in small pieces. Chop one half orange and add with two tablespoons of orange juice, sweetened. To this add one-fourth cup of white grapes which have been skinned, seeded and cut in quarters. Beat one-half cup of cream add one-half cup mayonnaise and a few grains of salt. Fold this into the fruit and pour into fancy or loaf shaped ice cream mold. Cover with waxed paper and a tight cover and pack in ice and salt until frozen. Remove, slice, and serve on lettuce leaves. This should serve eight and is very delicious.

APRICOT

Soak one teaspoon gelatin in two tablespoons cold water, then melt over hot water. Add four tablespoons honey and heat until thin. Beat one cup of cream and fold in the gelatin and honey, one-third cup of mayonnaise, one-eighth cup chopped figs, one-fourth cup chopped pecans, and a little seasoning of preferred spice if desired. Drain three cups of cooked apricots, cut fine and add. Pour the mixture into a melon mold, cover with waxed paper, then the mold cover and pack in ice and salt in the proportion of four of ice to one of salt, until frozen. Or the mixture may be turned into refrigerator trays and let freeze. If frozen in a mold, after freezing turn out, cut into slices and serve with some good cream mayonnaise. Either fresh or canned apricots may be used. This will serve six.

PINEAPPLE

Combine two cups fresh pineapple, one and one-half cups apple sauce, four tablespoons corn syrup and one-third cup blanched almonds. Sorten one teaspoon gelatin in one tablespoon cold water, dissolve in two tablespoons boiling water and add. Beat one-half cup of cream, add one-half cup mayonnaise and a few grains of salt and fold into the fruit. Pour into individual round or star shaped ice cream molds and cover with waxed paper and tin covers. Pack in ice and salt frozen. This may be served in the ordinary active way is desired, each mold resting in a piece of watermelon, arranged in a circle, star, French or any desired dressing might be used. This should serve six.

BOILED HAM AND EGG WITH EGGPLANT

- 6 eggs
- 6 servings ham
- 1 round eggplant

Remove the skin and cut the eggplant into slices, one-half inch thick. Sprinkle with salt and pile on a plate. Cover with a weight and let stand two hours; this is to press out the juice. Drain, dredge with flour and sauté slowly, first on one side and then on the other, to a golden brown. Lay a slice of boiled ham on each slice of eggplant and top with a poached egg. Serve with Hollandaise sauce.

HAM LOAF

- 4 cups chopped cooked ham
- 1 cup soft bread
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1 cup chopped green peppers
- 1 cup chopped onions
- 2 tablespoons parsley, chopped
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup milk
- 3 tablespoons butter, melted

Mix ingredients and pour into 1 large or 2 medium-sized buttered loaf pans. Bake 45 minutes in moderate oven. Cool and unmold. Serve cut in slices.

Sweet Peppers

The delicious and decorative fresh sweet peppers (or capsicums, or pimientos, or paprikas—whatever they happen to be called) are in the shop windows again, and no time should be lost in buying some.

In any case, it is always necessary to skin them before they are used. This is done by either grilling or scalding them, when the skin, as in the case of tomatoes, will come off quite easily. They should then be emptied of their seeds and then cut up or left whole according to the recipe to be followed.

TUFFED SWEET PEPPERS

Having skinned them and emptied them, stuff them with any kind of mixture you wish, not too dry and made more substantial with a little rice. A chicken, onion, mushroom, and tomato stuffing is a good one. Then braise them with good stock, or with tomato purée, if you prefer. They are excellent.

FOR SALADS

After being peeled, they should be cut up in strips or pieces. They make quite a good salad by themselves, but they are better used when mixed with other ingredients. For instance, equal parts of sweet pepper and cucumber, seasoned with olive oil, vinegar, salt, and pepper and garnished with chopped chervil or, at a pinch, parsley. Another is mix tomato flesh and thin strips of sweet peppers with cold boiled rice, and season with oil, vinegar, a little of garlic, chopped onion, and parsley.

VEAL OR CHICKEN PAPRIKAS

Fry a quarter of a pound of finely chopped onions in an ounce of lard until they are golden brown, then stir in a teaspoonful of paprika pepper and just a touch of garlic, very little indeed. Add a pound of veal cut in cubes, and stew them together over a flame until all moisture

STUFFED ONIONS

Four large mild onions, 1 cup finely chopped meat, 2 tablespoons minced mushrooms (optional), 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup coarse stable bread crumbs.

Spanish onions are preferred but any large onion can be used. Peel and cook in boiling water until tender, letting the water cook away. It will take about an hour. Drain and take out the center of onions without disturbing the outside layers. Mix meat, mushrooms, salt and pepper. Add egg without beating and mix very thoroughly. Fill onions with mixture. Melt butter and add bread crumbs. Mix well and cover the fillings in the onions. Bake in a moderate oven for twenty minutes or until the crumbs are brown.

Save the centers of the onions to use in a cream sauce the following day.

MASHED PARSNIP RING

Eight or ten parsnips of fair size, 4 tablespoons bacon drippings, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon white pepper, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons white pepper, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 cup cracker crumbs, 1 cup flaked fish, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 cups milk, parsley.

Scrub and scrape parsnip. Cut in halves and cook in boiling salted water until tender. It will take about thirty minutes, depending on freshness and size. Put through a ricer and add bacon drippings, paprika, pepper and cracker crumbs. Beat egg with vinegar and add to parsnip mixture. Cook over the fire, stirring constantly until egg is set. Arrange on a hot platter in the form of a mound and with a spoon press a hollow in the center, widening it into a ring. Fill with fish in cream sauce and garnish with parsley.

To make the sauce, melt butter, stir in flour and when bubbling slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point. Season with salt and pepper, and add fish.

CHEESE AND POTATO SOUFFLE

Two cups mashed potatoes, 1 cup grated cheese, 4 eggs, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 tablespoon tomato catsup, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup rich milk.

Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon coloured and add with cheese and seasonings to mashed potato. Beat in enough milk to make the consistency of drop batter. Less than 1 cup may be enough. Fold in the whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Turn into a well buttered baking dish and place in a pan of hot water. Bake thirty to forty minutes in a moderate oven (375, degrees F.). When well puffed and firm to the touch, remove from oven and serve at once. Freshly mashed, hot potatoes can be used or left-over potatoes can be put through a ricer and reheated.

For A Dinner-Party

Consomme: Mikado

Sole: Tournee

Tournedos: Belle-Helene

Canelet: rôti à l'Anglaise

Coupe: aux champignons

Coupe: Brésilienne

For this dinner-party menu the soup is a chicken consomme flavoured with tomato and garnished with dice of chicken meat and of tomato.

The sole is poached and garnished with stewed cucumber cut in olive shapes. It is covered with a cheese sauce flavoured with paprika.

Grilled tournedos are garnished with artichoke bottoms filled with Bearnaise sauce, straw potatoes, and watercress.

The duck is plainly roasted, but instead of sage and onions it is stuffed with a spoonful of finely chopped fresh mint mixed with an "egg" of butter.

The coupe is a base of pineapple dice soaked in maraschino, which is masked with lemon ice. After this, coffee should taste especially good.

VEGETABLES IN MARKET

SUGGEST THESE DISHES

It's easy to plan meals these days if you use originality and imagination. Vegetables and fruits are abundant and they all tempt us by their own perfection. Vegetable cookery should continue to be stressed throughout November. Frequently a well-planned vegetable combination, containing a small amount of meat or fish, will serve acceptably as a main dish for luncheon or supper.

Veal cutlets with stuffed sweet peppers is a splendid dish for a September dinner. Serve it with a tomato and cucumber salad and a fresh dessert.

CUTLETS WITH STUFFED PEPPERS

Four veal cutlets, 1 egg, cracker crumbs, 2 large sweet green peppers, 1 cup diced green beans (cooked), 4 tablespoons tiny cooked onions, 1 cup diced new carrots (cooked), 1 cup diced cooked beets, 4 tablespoons Hollandaise sauce or melted butter.

Steak can be used and cut in neat pieces, each one large enough has evaporated. Then add a peeled and sliced green sweet pepper and a tomato, but see that skin and ribs are removed.

Go on cooking, with the lid on, until the meat is tender, then mix a little flour with a bit of sour cream, add this to the stew and bring to the boil again. If you prefer, use fresh cream instead of sour.

for a serving, or "cutlets", can be used. Trim meat and roll in crumbs. Dip in egg slightly beaten with 1 tablespoon cold water and roll again in crumbs. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and sauté a rich brown on both sides. Reduce heat and cook slowly for 30 minutes. Place on a hot platter and on each cutlet put half a pepper filled with the combination of vegetables. Pour the sauce or melted butter over each stuffed pepper, and serve at once. After cutting peppers in halves and removing seeds, simmer for eight minutes in boiling salted water. Drain and fill with any combination of vegetables at hand. This is an excellent way to use left-over vegetables.

EGGPLANT ITALIENNE

Two small eggplants, 2 hard cooked eggs, 1 cup diced cheese, 1 cup tomato sauce.

Pare eggplants and cut in slices. Sprinkle each slice with salt and pile on a plate, one above the other. Cover with a weighted plate and let stand two hours. Sauté in butter and line a shallow baking dish with half the slices. Cover with eggs cut in slices; over the eggs sprinkle the cheese and pour over tomato sauce. Cover with remaining eggplant and bake fifteen minutes in a moderate oven.

To make tomato sauce, cook 14 cups diced tomatoes with onion, celery leaves, parsley, carrot and three or four cloves. Season with salt and pepper, and when very soft, rub through a strainer. Blend with two tablespoons butter blended with 14 tablespoons flour.

Neglect of COMMON ILLS MAY MEAN days of suffering

WHOLE days of suffering, and in many cases weeks of anxiety and pain can be definitely avoided by the simple action of taking 'ASPRO'. When people realise what a wonderful medicine tablet 'ASPRO' is—how it soothes pain—how it reduces feverishness, and how, after ingestion in the system, being a solvent of uric acid—an internal antiseptic—an anti-pyretic or fever reducer—and a powerful germicide, it strikes at the cause of numerous complaints, then much suffering will be avoided—much illness prevented.

'ASPRO' IS THE SAFE MEDICINE

EXPLOSION OF AIR BOMB

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 30.

Three British soldiers and two Indians were killed when a bomb which was being unloaded from an aeroplane belonging to No. 5 (A.C.) Squadron, Royal Air Force, exploded at Abbotsford aerodrome last night. In addition, six British soldiers, 23 Indian other ranks, and one Indian follower were injured. At a result of the explosion and a subsequent fire the aeroplane and an adjacent one were destroyed.

The British soldiers killed were Sergeant George Withlow Brereton,

JAPANESE TEXTILES IN EGYPT

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 30.

While the British textile industry continues to consider what steps can be taken to deal with Japanese competition, Egypt has taken drastic action.

On top of the existing 30 per cent. import duty, she has decided to impose an exchange compensating tax of 40 per cent. ad valorem on all Japanese cotton goods.

Japanese imports into Egypt have recently been exceptionally heavy. The existing trade agreement is due to expire on October 18 and importers have been trying to anticipate the expected higher duties.

Such importers now find themselves badly caught out by the Government's prompt action in imposing higher rates forthwith, which will catch shipments at present on the way.

Another cause of the recent increase in imports seems to have been the possibility of war interfering with shipping in the near future.

Whether the increased duties are intended to be permanent or whether they are merely intended for use as a bargaining weapon in any negotiations with Japan which may follow the expiration of the treaty is not yet clear.

But if they do turn out to be permanent, Lancashire may be able to get back some share of a market from which Japan has been rapidly driving her.

ROYAL AIR FORCE

Passages For Families

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

A new paragraph (3117B) has been inserted into the King's Regulations and Air Council Instructions regarding passages for the families of officers who marry during a tour of duty abroad.

Subject to the exigencies of the service and the medical fitness of the family, a qualified married officer (that is, one over 30 years of age or holding a substantive rank above flight lieutenant) who has married while on leave from abroad, or while at home on temporary duty or attending a course of instruction, may be granted passage by public vessel for his family from the United Kingdom to his station abroad. The grant is provisional on his not being due to return to the United Kingdom, or to move to a station to which passages for families are not allowed, within a year of the date on which passage will be available for the family.

TORPEDO BOMBER SQUADRONS
No. 42 (Bomber) Squadron, which is about to be formed at Donibristle, Fife, will be equipped with the Vickers Vildebeest torpedo bomber, with Bristol Pegasus engine. This will make a total of four squadrons with this type of aircraft, the others being No. 22, also at Donibristle, and Nos. 36 and 100, at Singapore. The type has a maximum speed of 141 miles an hour. An adaptation of it for general purposes, known as the Vincent, has been supplied to No. 84 (Bomber) Squadron in Iraq and No. 8 (Bomber) Squadron at Aden.

A. Tyler, and J. Oliver (all slightly injured). A court of inquiry is being held into the cause of the accident.

CASINO DE PARIS

The sensation of Al Jolson, famous Mammy singer who first introduced the talking pictures and Ruby Keeler, his wife, former Broadway musical star who leaped to fame in the movies in two years, in First National latest, said to be greatest, musical spectacle, "Casino de Paris" opening at the Queen's Theatre To-morrow.

While the picture is a mammoth musical spectacle, it carries a well defined plot and a fascinating romance with tense emotional scenes, interspersed with hilarious comedy relief. Al Jolson has the role of a Broadway entertainer, who is barred from the New York stage, because he quits his shows without notice, his weakness being wine, women and the "ponies". He winds up in Caliente at the race tracks, winking up with a headache and without a job. Glenda Farrell plays the part of his devoted sister who gets him straightened up, and finally convincing him that Broadway is through with him, persuades him to take a job in Chicago with a partner. She has already persuaded Ruby Keeler, who has a role of a clever dancer on the West Coast to team with her brother. After a series of exciting incidents the New York opening comes off in a blaze of glory in an unusual and surprising climax.

CURLY TOP

The happiest picture of Shirley Temple's career "Curly Top" comes to the Alhambra on Saturday.

In "Curly Top" a charming story of a little girl who captures the heart of a lonely bachelor and makes both their dreams come true. Shirley has two new songs to sing and several new and intriguing dance routines for the audience's approval.

In this Fox Film comedy-drama, John Boles is cast as a bachelor who adopts Shirley and her big sister, Rochelle Hudson. His generosity takes them from the drab and dreary atmosphere of an orphanage to the sunny summer surroundings of a palatial home in Southampton.

There the romance of Boles and Miss Hudson flourishes under the childish guidance of little Shirley who sings, dances and laughs her way into their hearts.

Shirley is not the only one to sing in this joyful film. John Boles sings "It is All So New To Me" and "Curly Top" while Rochelle Hudson surprises by singing for the first time, "The Simple Things in Life."

Ray Henderson, America's ace song writer, wrote the melodies for all the song numbers for "Curly Top" which was produced by Winfield Sheehan and directed by Irving Cummings.

JEAN DIXON ESTHER HALESTON VICTOR VANCONI NATHAN MACHUG

THE QUEEN'S

"Mr. Dynamite"

"Dynamite" starring Edmund Lowe, opened its season at the Queen's Theatre yesterday and those who saw it were agreed that it was not only one of the most thrilling murder mystery stories of the year but also that it was Lowe at his best and that alone should be sufficient guarantee for excellent entertainment.

Lowe plays the part of "Dynamite" a reckless, black sheep detective who is given a police escort out of every town he enters, but he redeems himself when he is called in by private interests to solve the mysterious murder of a young boy who is shot down as he is leaving the grounds of a gambling resort.

It is no exaggeration to say that the versatile Lowe covers himself with glory while Jean Dixon, as his secretary, is also good.—F.M.A.

SPANISH ULTIMATUM TO PARAMOUNT

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright))

Madrid, Oct. 22.
The Spanish Government has decided at the request of the War Minister Gil Robles that they require the American Paramount film company to immediately withdraw various films that are now appearing abroad in which Spanish army policy has been made to appear ridiculous. It is stated that should the Government's demands not be fulfilled within three days, the Government will prohibit all paramount films from being shown on Spanish territory.

ADVICE TO ABYSSINIA

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.
General Sir Ian Hamilton, speaking at the annual dinner of the City Imperial Volunteers in London on Saturday, said: "I trust the Abyssinians will make their daggers gleam in the moon and will take their lessons from the Afiridis and Mohamands rather than from instructors of the parade ground—the present arm-guess-stepping sort."

A few British officers who served in the Tirah campaign would teach them how not to do it; not to collect together and give their enemies a target. If there seems any opening for a close order attack, let it be by night. After all, I ought to know what I am talking about. I commanded a brigade at the opening of the Tirah campaign until I broke my leg, and commanded again the Third Brigade, which saw the closing phases of the War—namely, a save-face, patched-up peace. It was in Tirah and not at Aldershot, or on Salisbury Plain, that we learned."

So It Seemed

The barber had used his electric clippers in cutting small Betty's hair.

"I think my neck wasn't clean," she told her mother on coming home "cause that man used his vacuum cleaner on it."

THE KING'S

Louis-Baer Fight

The much talked of Louis-Baer fight of which we have read columns and columns in the newspapers has at last come to us on the screen and was shown for the first time at the Kings Theatre yesterday.

Although the fight only lasted four rounds, the film is complete with every incident from beginning to end, and is enough to show us what these mighty men have to go through in order to gain that most coveted heavyweight Crown.

That Joe Louis is master of the situation from the very first going is quite apparent, and leaves nothing to be wondered after one has seen the film, and the King's Theatre must be congratulated on having obtained this film of the fight so soon after the event.

The programme at the Kings is a double attraction, and following the fight film is an excellent mystery drama, titled "Thunder In The Night" and featuring Edmund Lowe, Karen Morley and Paul Cavanagh.—C.J.A.

NEWS-SHEETS OF THE PAST

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 28.
An exhibition illustrating the history of English newspapers from the early news-sheets of the seventeenth century until the present time, was opened by Sir Owen Seaman at the hall of the Institute of Journalists, Tudor Street. The collection is the property of the London Press Club, and it has been placed on exhibition until Friday in connection with the annual conference of the Institute of Journalists.

There is no important phase in the evolution of the modern newspaper which the exhibition does not illustrate. A page from Caxton's press is the earliest exhibit, and there follows an interval of over a century before the direct ancestral line of the newspaper begins with the "Mercurius Gallicus," a summary in Latin of six months' news in the year 1608. The propagandist news-sheets of the Civil War, issuing from the rival headquarters in London and Oxford, are strongly represented in the collection, which contains also a contemporary report of the trial and execution of Charles the First. Proclamations by Charles the Second and Queen Anne against the printing of seditious books are there, to remind the visitor of the strict surveillance to which the presses were submitted in later Stuart times.

RARE PRODUCTIONS

The section of the exhibition devoted to the productions of the eighteenth century is of the greatest interest to the student of newspaper history, for there are many rare, and some unique, copies of early newspapers on view. Among these is a copy of an issue of "The Times" during 1785, under the newspapers original title, and the only known copy of the first issue of the "Morning Post" in 1772. Examples of many of the provincial newspapers in their earliest form may also be studied. Sir Owen Seaman said that nothing in the exhibition had impressed him more than the evidence of the powers of endurance of the provincial Press. Large numbers of the provincial news-

FURTHER FALL IN SECURITIES

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 28.
From the review of the Stock Exchange published to-day, and the long list of falls in prices there recorded, it will be seen that yesterday was a rather depressing day for those who hold or deal in securities—except, of course, "bears" and those few persons who have the courage to buy on a falling market. But in spite of the fact that British Government stocks fell to the lowest points of the year, it would be easy to exaggerate the importance of yesterday's happenings. The market appears to have taken its cue at the opening from Paris, where on Thursday the Bourse had been weak, and as this was followed by Continental selling in a market where buyers were few and far between prices fell rather sharply. But it would be in correct to say that there was any real nervousness.

The selling appeared to be of speculatively-held stock carried on borrowed money as well as on behalf of nervous investors. The New York Stock Exchange was also weak, but this was a reflecting of the weakness of London. The Paris Bourse, however, yesterday was a little steadier. Movements in commodity prices were irregular, profit-taking causing a fall in some directions, but "bullish" speculation a rise in others.

The demand for dollars again dominated the foreign exchanges yesterday. It is mainly the outcome of the tendency on the part of Continental holders of capital to transfer funds to New York. In some instances yesterday Continental owners of gold deposited in London were even reported to be selling gold and purchasing dollar funds. Gold cannot be held on private account in the United States. Gold currencies showed further general appreciation, the New York rate falling to $4.91 13-16 and the Paris rate to 74 45-64. Large engagements of gold were reported for New York, these including a part of the $260,000 of gold sold in the London bullion market. Italian currency showed depreciation, the Milan exchange rising to 60 1/2; forward lire were nominally quoted at a discount of 14-21, one month, and 61, three months.

It seems certain to me already," she said, "that the picture will be an excellent interpretation of my story. The amazing thing is the way that the actors and actresses have given the precise characterisation that I visualised when I wrote the story. It has been almost uncanny to watch."

When Mr. Korda first platted to produce "The Scarlet Pimpernel" he invited my advice. I was glad to help in any way I could; and now I am proud of my small part in the making of a film which I confidently think will be a big success."

papers, surviving still, could point to an origin at least 50 years earlier than the oldest London general newspaper, the "Morning Post," born in 1772. In this kaleidoscope it was impossible to prize too highly the virtue of continuity.

Sir Emrys Carr proposed a vote of thanks to Sir Owen Seaman for opening the exhibition. Mr. Alan Pitt-Robinson, president of the Institute was in the chair.

HELP THE CHILDREN

An excellent opportunity of securing attractive Christmas presents and, at the same time, helping one of the most deserving causes in the Colony, will be presented at a sale of work in aid of the Society for the Protection of Children which is being held at the Helena May Institute on Wednesday next, October 30, from 2 to 6.30 p.m.

The sale is being organised by the Women's Auxiliary of the Society, and the opening ceremony will be performed at 3 p.m. by Lady Southern. All manner of articles will be on display at the various stalls, including Christmas presents, provisions, etc., and there will also be bran tubs and a "White Elephant" stall, whilst teas will also be served.

All articles will be found to be most reasonably priced, and as the Society is greatly in need of funds with which to carry on its excellent work, it is hoped that many parents and children will make a point of giving the sale their support.

JAPANESE BEER

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.
While Japanese statesmen are making declarations sympathetic to Abyssinia, Japanese merchants are making money out of Italy.

Already many of the Italian Expeditionary Force are wearing shirts bearing the label, in English, "Made in Japan."

Japanese brewers are sharing in the harvest. Italian Somaliland has imported in the first two quarters of 1935 six times the total imports in 1934.

There is no attempt, as there often is in the case of Japanese "whisky," to disguise the country of the beer's origin. The principal brands are "Sakura" and "Asahi."

OBITUARY

Sir Drury Wake

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

Admiral Sir Drury St. Aubyn Wake died yesterday at his home at Clapham Common at the age of 72. He was a typical seaman who preferred service afloat to shore billets, and his popularity was indicated by the nickname of "Tubby," by which he was known throughout the Service. In the War he was chiefly concerned in the "side-shows"; as he once said in a speech to the Auxiliary Patrol Club, he had encountered the R.N.V.R. not only round the coasts of these islands, but in the White Sea and in Mesopotamia.

He came of an ancient family which has given many members to the service of the Crown. He was the third son of Admiral Charles Wake, son of the tenth baronet, and entered the Britannia in July, 1876, before he was 13, having been born on September 16, 1863. His father was the hero of the episode of the Bulldog at Cape Haytien in 1885. To prevent the capture of his ship he set fire to her and abandoned her. For this he was reprimanded by a Court-martial, but public sentiment at home entirely supported him. Drury Wake first went to sea in the iron-clad Monarch, which took part in the bombardment of Alexandria in 1882, and for his services then and during the Egyptian War was awarded the Egyptian medal with clasps for Alexandria and Tel-el-Kebir, the Khedive's Star, and the Order of the Medjidieh. While serving in the Reindeer, in 1887, he won the bronze medal of the Royal Humane Society for saving a private of Marines from drowning at Pemba Island, East Coast of Africa. With the aid of some oars Wake supported the man for two hours in shark-infested waters. His career continued to be passed in seagoing ships, and up to the outbreak of the War in 1914 he commanded successfully the Dido, in the Home Fleet, the Minerva in the Mediterranean, and the battleships Prince George and Formidable in the Home Fleet. While in the Minerva he was among the British naval officers who hastened to Messina at the time of the earthquake in December, 1908, to render assistance to the stricken city. For this service he was awarded the Italian medal for gallantry and was afterwards made a Commander of the Order of St. Maurice and St. Lazarus.

WAR SERVICE.

Wake's service in the War took him to the two extremes of climate as represented by Archangel and the White Sea and Mesopotamia and the East Indies Station. He was appointed to command the battleship Jupiter, which in the early weeks of war operated in the southern area of the North Sea, between Dunkirk and the North. Early in November she moved up to the Humber, where was the headquarters of the Admiral of Patrols, and later on to the Tyne, where Captain Wake had the cruiser Brilliant and six submarines under his orders for the defence of the coast. In 1915, however, the Jupiter was sent to Archangel for use as an icebreaker, and for his services there and in the North Sea Wake was made a C.B. in June, 1916. Appointed to command the cruiser Juno, in the East Indies, he rendered valuable service to the Mesopotamia Expeditionary Force, and was mentioned in dispatches by General Sir Percy Lake and Sir W. R. Marshall. It was while in Mesopotamia that he was promoted to rear-admiral on April 28, 1917, having for some time held the rank of commodore. In January, 1917, he was made a C.I.E., and in June, 1918, was promoted to K.C.I.E. After returning home, Sir Drury volunteered for service in the Auxiliary Patrol organization, and became a temporary captain in the Royal Naval Reserve for this purpose. On September 11, 1918, he succeeded Sir James Starlin as Senior Naval Officer at Granton, with his penant in the trawler Gunner. He was promoted on the retired list to vice-admiral in 1922 and to admiral in 1926.

Sir Drury married, in 1896, Edith Rose Mary, youngest daughter of the Rev. T. W. Boyce, rector of St. Werburgh's, Bristol. Their only son, an officer of the King's Royal Rifle Corps, was killed in action in September, 1918.

The funeral will be strictly private. No flowers, by request, but donations may be sent to the Walls and Strays Society.

Around the Courts

TRESPASSER FINED

Chan Wai, a travelling trader, appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones at Kowloon Magistracy yesterday on a charge of trespassing on the tracks of the Kowloon-Canton Railway and was fined $25 or one month's hard labour.

Inspector Stimson said it was alleged that about 11 a.m. on Tuesday a man was seen handing bags of sugar to defendant who was inside the railing of the Kowloon-Canton Railway at Tsimshatsui, and defendant crossed the tracks and placed the bags in a second-class carriage of a passenger train which was on the main line a little distance away from the platform. The duty on the sugar would have amounted to $3, or probably more.

Mr. D. C. Cathie, traffic inspector of the K.C.R., was the complainant.

ANOTHER CASE

Remarking he did not think that he could make an order in the case, Mr. Schofield, at the Central Police Court yesterday, discharged a woman, Lok Po, aged 50 years, who was charged with trespassing on Crown land at Saiwanho district.

Asked about the Government's attitude towards the continuance of the structure, Mr. W. E. Hollands, of the Public Works Department, replied that the permit was already issued to another party and they had no power to pull down the structure.

At the hearing last week defendant pleaded that a man, Na Wal, took the permit away from her, as she owed him money. Mr. Hollands said a letter was received from Ng Wai stating that the defendant was occupying his house and would not leave. Apparently she was allowed to live there for a few months during Ng Wai's absence. Actually, the defendant was now trespassing on Crown land, but there was a permit for the structure.

CINEMA SEATS DAMAGED.

When they appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones yesterday it was stated that Tin Choi and Ho Tam-fuk had deliberately damaged 25 seats at the Mei Chiu Cinema on Tuesday night. They were remanded till Tuesday next.

The manager of the theatre, Lau Hang-sang, appeared as complainant.

Sub-Inspector Whelan stated that defendants attended the 7.35 p.m. performance on Tuesday night. At the end of the performance first accused stood up on his seat and shouted that the performance was too short and urged the people to break up the things and get their money back. This was acted upon by the people sitting in the seats two rows at the back of the third class.

Both defendants pleaded not guilty and the case was remanded. Bail was granted in the sum of $50 each.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL MOULTON-BARRETT

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 30.

Lieut.-Col. Harry Peyton Moulton-Barrett, of High Park, Bideford, late The Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, died on Monday at Mallaclieve, Bideford, at the age of 73. With Lieut.-General Sir Edward Altham and Lieut.-Col. E. M. Moulton-Barrett, of Westover, Calbourne, I.W., he wrote a letter in "The Times" in August, 1930, protesting, as grandsons of Mr. Barrett, against the character of Mr. Barrett as presented in the play "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." Subsequently the author and the producer of the play wrote to Lieut.-Col. H. P. Moulton-Barrett expressly disclaiming any intention of presenting Mr. Barrett as an immoral character, and declaring that there was no foundation whatever for any such suggestion.

MASONIC HONOUR FOR LORD HAREWOOD

London, Sept. 28.

Lord Harewood was on Saturday installed as Grand Superintendent of Royal Arch Masons of the West Riding of Yorkshire. The ceremony took place in the Town Hall, Leeds, and was performed by Canon Hubert Curtis, assisted by Mr. A. Burnett Brown and Mr. R. W. E. Dixon, who formed part of a delegation from London. A banquet attended by 350 members, followed the installation.

EXTRADITION CASE

The extradition proceedings against Chiu Shu-ting, alias Tsui Kau alias Chan Siu-fun, wanted by the Chinese authorities in connection with an alleged robbery at Ko Sa village, Siu Lam, Chung Shan District, were continued before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday. It is alleged that defendant, together with nine others had robbed a farmer, Lau Shuen-lung (since dead) of the sum of $1,055 in Cantonese money.

Leung Sun, called by the prosecution, said that he was the officer-in-command of the Central Squad of the District Garrison of Chung Shan District. The Garrison was under the control of the Magistracy of Chung Shan. Witness held his present position since August last, and he knew fugitive, who was connected with the Magistracy as a detective. Witness did not know when he joined the force but he left in June last year. The fugitive had been officer-in-command of a small company, called the "King Wai Dui".

Witness went on to say that he knew about the robbery of May 5, last at Ko Sa. He had received written instructions for the arrest of the fugitive in connection with the robbery, the instructions being received on August last.

After further evidence was heard, the hearing was adjourned.

VERDICT OF MURDER

Murder against a person or persons unknown was the verdict returned by the jury in an enquiry into the circumstances attending the death of a Chinese male, named Cheng Chung Ping, aged 37 who died in the early hours of August 27. The inquiry was taken by Mr. E. J. Wynne Jones sitting as Coroner at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

The jurymen who comprised: Messrs. A.E. Silkstone (foreman), E.C. Randall and S. J. Pollock also found that deceased died from a ruptured spleen as a result of a blow received during an attack made upon him on August 27. In summing up, the Coroner pointed out to the jury that the evidence that had been offered in Court, had in the main, consisted of hearsay.

The jury retired for a few moments and returned the verdict as stated above.

CHINESE COMMUNITY ENTERTAINS

Tributes To The Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo

"On account of the unavoidable absence of the Chairman, Mr. Wong Kwong Tin, the pleasant duty devolves upon me on behalf of all, to extend to the Hon. Mr. Lo Man Kam our heartfelt congratulations upon his appointment as Chinese member of the Legislative Council," said Mr. Li Sing Kui, the Vice-Chairman of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, at a tea party which was given at the Roof Garden of the Hong Kong Hotel yesterday by the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, the Tung Wah Hospital and the Po Leung Kuk, in honour of the Hon. Mr. Lo.

There was a large and representative gathering of local Chinese business men and merchants present at the function, and among those noted were Sir Robert Ho Tung, Kt., The Hon. Mr. R. H. Kowall, The Hon. Dr. S. W. Tso, Mr. Li Sing Kui, Mr. Sinn Ping Hee, Mr. Ng Yiu Wan, Dr. Li Shu Fan, Messrs. Chan Ping Au, Mok Kon Sang, Li Po Kwai, Ho Wing, Kwok Shiu Lau, Ho Kam Tong and many others.

MR. LI'S SPEECH

In introducing the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo to the guests the Vice-Chairman, Mr. Li Sing Kui said in part:—

Gentlemen:—I am sure I am voicing the sentiments of all, when I say that while congratulating Mr. Lo, the Chinese Community have very good reasons to congratulate itself upon having such a fitting and distinguished representative on the Legislative Council.

I had the pleasure of knowing Mr. Lo for 20 years, in fact ever since he commenced the practice of law. I have always known him to be modest, unassuming and loyal to his friends. To me, he is a man of great learning, integrity and perseverance and what is more, he is liked by all those with whom he comes in contact.

MANY ACTIVITIES

Concerning his activities, they are many and varied. I am afraid time does not permit me to even enumerate them. But I must at least mention a few of the principal public services which he has so valuably rendered to the Colony in general and the Chinese Community in particular.

For several years Mr. Lo served as a Chinese member on the Sanitary Board, in which capacity he has rendered valuable services in the interest of public health.

He is known as one of the ablest and most successful Chairmen of Directors of the Tung Wah Hospital. Besides these he has served as Chairman to numerous public bodies such as the Chinese Club, the Children's Playground Association, the Association for the Protection of Children etc.

But I wish to take this opportunity to refer particularly to the unique services which Mr. Lo has rendered to the Chinese Chamber of Commerce. They were indeed numerous but I should like to mention three of them.

Firstly, for 19 years he has served as Honorary Legal Adviser to the Chamber, during which time he has rendered numerous valuable services gratuitously and ungrudgingly.

Secondly, the Chamber owed it to him that the memorandum and articles of association of the Chamber was prepared and incorporated this year.

Thirdly, for a number of years he has served as a member of the Executive Committee of the Chamber. In the discharge of his duties he has given much of his valuable time and labour in spite of his manifold duties elsewhere.

I am only fitting therefore that I should take this opportunity to express to Mr. Lo on behalf of the Chamber our heartfelt appreciation and gratitude for what he has done.

Gentlemen, I ask you to rise and drink with me the health of Mr. Lo coupled with the name of Mrs. Lo may they both enjoy many years of happiness and prosperity. (Applause).

THE HON. MR. M. K. LO

In replying and thanking the guests, the Hon. Mr. Lo said:—

Mr. Chairman, Committee Members and Gentlemen:—I am very grateful to-day for the kindness and courtesy extended to me by the three important institutions, the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, the Tung Wah Hospital and the Po Leung Kuk, in entertaining me at this function, and in giving me such a treasured souvenir. I feel gratified by the kind presence of the Hon. Dr. R. H. Kowall, the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau, and my father-in-law, Sir Robert Ho Tung. I am happy that Sir Robert has recovered from his recent illness, and is thus able to attend this function.

I know that I do not deserve the eulogies of the three chairmen.

It is an undoubted fact that the goodwill of the whole of the Chinese community of Hong Kong centres round these three institutions, whose past and present members of the committees, all prominent gentlemen in the Colony, so worthily maintain the splendid tradition of devoted services to the general welfare of the community.

I feel I can claim some close connection with all these three institutions. My father, the late Mr. Lo Cheung Shiu, did his best for all three institutions, and was an intimate friend and collaborator of many present to-day. As regards the Chamber of Commerce and the Tung Wah, I have acted as honorary legal adviser for many years. As regards the Po Leung Kuk, its committee members, as I have said, are all well-known and highly respected. For instance, the former chairman, Mr. Tam Woon Tong, with whom I have had long and friendly relations, served two terms as chairman, and it is due to the energy and zeal of Mr. Tam and his colleagues that we have the present fine and imposing Po Leung Kuk building. In 1932, under the chairmanship of Mr. Tang Shiu Kin, I received the appointment as Honorary Legal Adviser to that institution.

FRIENDLY RELATIONS

In narrating the above, I do so not out of conceit for any little service I may have rendered to these institutions, but to emphasise my long and friendly relations with them. As a member of the Legislative Council, I must rely on their advice and assistance. If, in memory of my long and friendly association with these institutions, you will readily render that advice and assistance to me, and, deeming that I am not too unworthy to be taught, you will condescend to teach me, then I feel that the benefit I shall have obtained from this pleasant function will be great indeed, and I shall be everlastingly grateful. In thanking you, I wish these three great institutions many thousands of years of prosperity, and I wish you all excellent health. (Applause).

NEW BATTLESHIP FOR FRANCE

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

The French battleship Dunkerque, which is to be floated out of the building dock at Brest to-day, was laid down over two years ago as a reply to the German "pocket battleship" of 10,000 tons.

The Dunkerque is the first battleship to be built in France since 1914.

She will displace 26,500 tons and be equipped with turbine engines of 100,000 h.p. for a speed of 30 knots. In all but name, therefore, she is a battle-cruiser.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Councillor For The Silent Masses

(To The Editor, The Hong Kong Daily Press).

Sir.—The Councillor has endeavoured to voice the complaints of the under dogs—the Silent Masses, those who have no helper, though perhaps one class is not mentioned.

Questions arise as to taxation, are we taxed heavily? and who pay the taxes? The appearances are that Hong Kong people are lightly taxed, though at one time a member of the Legislative Council set out to prove the contrary.

Hong Kong people are taxed, though it may seem that there is little taxation. Who are taxed? It would seem as if it must be the well-to-do, but probably nearly all taxation is levied on the under dog. That seems impossible, how can a man getting $10.00 a month be taxed? He perhaps has to support a wife and several children, it seems that some have to live on $1.89 a month per head. This may include taxes, but if so how much? His landlord charges him for the water and other taxation for police, education and the upkeep of the Government, and he has to pay something toward the $2,000,000 a year said to be paid to our retired officials and other employees of the Government who are in receipt of pensions. A proper system of payment for pensions should be arranged and one wonders why it is not in force. Instead of being a continual charge on after generations.

No landlord or wealthy person will pay taxes, if he can get them paid by others. It may be said that we all prey on one another as much as possible, though some say that they assist the revenue in every way by smoking, drinking intoxicating liquors and other possible vices.

Who are the street sleepers? Probably many of them are some of the young bloods who were never prevailed upon to make provision for their old age, and so spent their earnings in foolish ways.

As for salary cuts, no one who was here in 1930 and 1931 can ever forgive the way the Government protected themselves, seeming to have no care as to what happened to anyone outside Government circles.

The criticism of the proposed $2,000,000 Government House seems to be timely—it seems to me that the Colony's Marble Hall might have done for this purpose, specially if the suggested Town Hall could be used as the Government entertainment room.

In any case Government seems to be spending on its personnel very large sums of public money, which many consider excessive.

Education—if an independent committee of citizens were to investigate the incidence of the expenditure of this department it might result in less expenditure, and more being done to keep our youngsters from running wild on the streets, and training for life as criminals.

The most important resources of a community are its young—if they are neglected the crop of evil that will grow cannot be estimated. Much might be said in praise of our sanitary work, but at the same time constant and frequent criticisms of the way the department is carried on are heard, and tuberculosis seems to be ignored as much now as it has been for decades—anti-spitting notices excepted.

Exchange—This perennial subject is again to the fore, but if we are to have a fixed exchange, is it to be a 2s/- dollar? or a 1/- lira at 92 to the £1?

One service the Councillor has done is to let people know that they have a right to attend the great conclave. It may be presumed that seats are provided for the public, and visitors to the Colony, as well as the press.—Yours etc.

THE FAIRLEA SCHOOL

Hold Their Annual Speech Day

A very successful year was reviewed when the Fairlea School held their annual speech day yesterday. Mrs. Tso Seen-wan giving away the certificates to the successful students.

At the conclusion of the prize-giving ceremony a concert was given by the girls and each item was well received. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Hall also addressed the gathering in the course of which he urged the girls to do their best in school, and more important still, to take their proper part in home life.

HEADMISTRESSES REPORT

In presenting her report the headmistress said in part:—

It is a great pleasure to have Mrs. Tso, and old friend of the school, to come to distribute the certificates, and to have the Bishop in the chair.

The number of students on roll this year is similar to that of last year. We have 180 day girls and 40 boarders. There is a slight change on the Staff. Miss Pope went back to England in February and her furlough will expire next Spring and we look forward to her coming back. Meanwhile, we have Miss Hancock taking Miss Pope's place. It is fortunate for us to have her in the house, and we thank her very much. We also welcome Mrs. S. P. Chinn and Misses Dora King, Au Yuet Han, Chung Yip Shou, Wong Tsu Ping, Yung Yuk Lin, Lok Yuen Hoan and Westcott to join the Staff. We also extend our thanks to Mrs. Li, Mrs. Lai, and Miss Au who have come to fill the gaps in the absence of some of the teachers.

In the Spring the Old Girls' Association was established. There are many members and it consists of both elder and younger sets. The inaugural meeting was a happy gathering indeed.

SPORTING ACTIVITIES

In the realm of sport, progress has been made. We have net ball matches with other schools and the girls enjoy their games very much. Some of our students entered a running team for an Invitation Race at St. Paul's College Sports. The thirteen year-old swimmer, Au Yan Chiu, a Hong Kong representative at present in Shanghai for the National Athletic Meet is one of our present Junior Middle School students.

With regard to religious welfare we are glad to report that 4 Senior Middle School students were baptized in St. Stephen's Church and Holy Trinity Church last Easter.

NEW SCHOOL

Our School was opened in 1835 and at that time aimed only at a Higher Primary standard, but recently during the last few years the standard has been much higher and each year's result has been better than the last and the parents feel it is necessary for us to have a Middle School opened for their daughters. So that they may study more advanced Chinese, therefore, we, complying with the parents' wishes, started a Junior Middle School in 1930 then opened a Senior Middle School in 1932. The first lot of Junior Middle School—graduates in 1932 was nine in number, and in 1933 eight girls—graduated from the Junior Middle School. This year we have nine J.M.S. graduates and 23 Higher Primary graduates. We feel this is quite a satisfactory result, but as we have added more classes, we require more class-rooms from the St. Stephen's Girls' College for the time being, however we have to arrange for the future. Fortunately our Bishop helped to think out a new plan which is for us to move over to Kowloon. Our new School plan is ready and we shall start building soon, after it is finished next year, we shall move in in Autumn and when the time comes, we shall be able to tell you more fully in detail for a new page will begin in the history of our school. Our desire, as we believe in what St. Paul says, "I can do all things through Christ that strengtheneth me."

THE CERTIFICATES

Mrs. Tso then distributed certificates to the following girls:—

HIGHER PRIMARY SCHOOL GRADUATES

Cheung Kam Hung, Lee Lok Chun, Au Tin Chun, Chiu Yan

Lin, Ng Pau Kau, Pong Lai Hung, Cheung Wai Fong, Ng Shuk Fong, Wong Yim Yin, Wong Wai Ling, Lee Wai Ying, Sung Ngai Yan, Tsu Ka Sul, Lo Oi Ying, Tsang Lai Yung, Leung Woon Wa, Tse So Lin, Leung Yuet Ching, Lee Wai Mul, Tsang Yim Yung, Pang Sik Pang, Mo Yung Wai Ling, Mok So Lan, Wong Po Lan, Tam Wai In, Pang Shuk Hing, Mo Yung Wai Sum, Tam Sau Chee.

JUNIOR MIDDLE SCHOOL GRADUATES

Cheung Yuet Kwai, Lee Wai Lan, Ma Chuen Hei, Ma Kwan Hei, Wong Sau Wa, Au Po Yin, Chan Oi Chun, Lee Pul Fong, Lee Tze Fung.

BISHOP'S SPEECH

Addressing the gathering Bishop Hall said:—

Mrs. Cheung has spoken mainly to the parents. I would like to speak mainly to the girls of the school. It is perhaps difficult for them while they are still at school to realise that many of the boys and girls who do best at examinations and get the best marks in school do not do so well in after life when they leave school. The reason for this is very simple. If you concentrate during your school time entirely on your books you are doing yourself and your life a great deal of harm. Supposing you fastened a hook to the ceiling of your room and every day during the days you were at school you hung on to that hook for an hour with your right hand. You would find before you left school that your right arm was longer than your left. Your right arm would be able to support your body without effort for an hour at a time, but it would not be so good at tennis or writing or painting.

It is equally possible to spend too much time on your study so that your mind becomes good at doing examinations and school work, but not so good at other things.

Now what happens when you get home from school? Do you say "I can't do this and I can't do that because I must do my home-work, or when you go home from school are they glad for you to come home because they know you will bring helping hands and a willing heart into the home life."

GIRL GUIDES

In my church at Newcastle in England we had a company of Girl Guides and when the Commissioner came to visit them she often used to say "are your mother and father glad that you are a Girl Guide, is your home a happier place because you are a Guide?"

I want to ask you the same kind of question. Is your home glad that you come to Fairlea School? Is your home a happier place when you get back to it because of the spirit you bring from the school? Now please understand that I am not saying that your home-work or your book work does not matter. It does matter, just as your right leg matters as well as your left leg in walking, you have to use both legs to walk, so as to be a useful woman for China and for God. You must try and be both good at your work at school and also good at taking your share in home life.

DIARY FOUND IN RUSSIA

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

A strange book, describing Columbus's voyages, and bearing the inscription in German: "Note book of Christopher Columbus: from myself to my son, Diego, August 3, 1492," has been discovered in the archives of the Kargopol Museum, in Northern Russia.

The book has a parchment binding bearing a design of sea shells and weeds, and a round seal suspended from a long string. It is profusely illustrated with drawings.

The origin of the book, how it got to the museum, and whether or not it has any real connection with Columbus, are being investigated.—B.U.P.

CHINA HOMEWARD CONFERENCE.

FREIGHT TARIFF No. 16,
DATED 1st FEBRUARY, 1935.

ADDENDUM No. 11.

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS.

As there appears to be some doubt amongst Conference shippers regarding the interpretation of the war clause which is now attached to Booking Notes issued by the Central Booking Office, and to Tariff Addendum No. 9, the position is set forth below.

ADDENDUM No. 9:

This refers to freight quotations only, and not to bookings.

WAR CLAUSE ON BOOKING NOTES.

This clause cancels the protection which shippers had previously been given under Tariff forward booking arrangements, as the right must be reserved to increase rates or cancel bookings. In order, however, to assist shippers who require firm quotations, the Conference Lines have arranged that forward bookings may be made for usual tariff periods at current tariff rates plus 10% surcharge.

Bookings with this surcharge will be protected and will be subject to the benefit of fall, if tariff rates are not increased at the time of shipment.

The war clause applies to all bookings of tariff cargo which are made without the above mentioned surcharge.

Bookings made before the institution of the war clause are protected.

Shippers who have made forward bookings since the institution of the war clause and who desire to take advantage of the surcharge arrangement in connection with such bookings, should notify the Central Booking Office immediately.

The surcharge arrangement mentioned above will not apply to shipments of Tea or China Silk regarding which Conference Lines will give the usual notice of any increase in rates.

SINKIANG AND MOSCOW

Reports From Japan Denied

Tientsin, Oct. 23.

General Sheng Shih-shai, military governor of China's farthest province, Sinkiang, (or Chinese Turkistan) has no intention of joining the Soviet Russian Union.

A telegram signed by Sheng, received here, reaffirmed his loyalty to the National Government at Nanking, and declared that Sinkiang's only interest in Russia is the promotion of trade and friendship.

Recent widely circulated reports originating in Japan, alleged that Sinkiang is rapidly becoming sovietized and that actual union with the Moscow Communist regime is imminent.

Tokyo reports said a "Turkistan soviet republic" was about to be established in Sinkiang, permitting Moscow to exercise dominance similar to that gained in Outer Mongolia. The Tokyo Government was represented as taking a most serious view of the situation.

The "Red general," Sheng Shih-shai, said the Tokyo reports, aided by Siberian arms and troops, defeated opposing forces and established a red-tinged government at Urumchi.

Sheng's army was said to include 10,000 men commanded by Su Ping-wen, who fought the Japanese in northwest Manchuria until the fall of 1933.

PROSPEROUS AUSTRALIA

Five years have elapsed since Australia, one of the first countries to be caught in the hurricane of depression, called in Sir Otto Niemeyer, of the Bank of England, to advise her as to the best way of escaping from the financial crisis which threatened to engulf her. A series of drastic economies were drawn up and accepted after much dispute, and although the sacrifices were heavy, they were borne cheerfully and the results have shown in no uncertain manner that these sacrifices were thoroughly justified. Two years ago the Federal Budget already showed a large surplus and this enabled the Government to make substantial remissions of taxation, together with a partial restoration of pay cuts. Another large surplus was applied to further alleviation last year while in the financial year ended June 30, last, the revenue again exceeded the estimates by about £4,000,000 though it was absorbed in subsidies to the still poverty-stricken wheat grower. In the new Budget for the coming year, introduced recently, it was possible to grant only minor remissions of taxation but the Federal financial position remains sound and unless unforeseen expenditures should crop up in the course of the year, there is every reason to hope for a useful margin at the end of the year.

This steady process of financial rehabilitation has undoubtedly been an important contributory cause of the marked improvement in the general economic condition of the country. Australia's credit which had sunk to unprecedented levels in the heyday of Mr. Lang, has been so well and truly re-established that she has been able to convert sterling debt to a much more favourable basis. This restoration of confidence has assisted enormously in the expansion of trade and industry but at the same time due acknowledgment must be paid to the part played by the exceptional prices which Australia received for her woolen exports in the year 1933-4, for they not only imparted a strong stimulus to the economic system as a whole, but also enabled Australia to accumulate a large balance in London. So far as trade balance is concerned a fall in export values together with an increase in imports has reduced the exports surplus considerably below the high level reached in 1933-4, thus leaving an insufficient margin to cover the current overseas debt charges. But Australia still retained ample resources from the preceding ample to draw upon and is in no immediate danger of renewed stringency, and provided she keeps to the course pursued in the last few years she can look forward to the future with confidence.

AGED FIELD MARSHAL HONOURED

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, Oct. 22. The eighty-six year old Field Marshal August von Mackensen, who is the oldest living German army leader in the Great War, was the recipient of a special honour on Tuesday when Premier Goering, on behalf of Herr Hitler, presented the veteran soldier with the title deed of the Prussian domain estate of Brüssow, near Prenzlau, in the province of Brandenburg, 25 miles north of Berlin.

The presentation took place in the presence of Reichs Ministers Baron von Neurath, Count Schwerin-Krosigk and many other prominent representatives of the state party and the army.

Premier Goering in the course of his speech recalled the distinguished services of the Field Marshal in times of war and peace. In reply the veteran soldier said that his family had been established in the same farm for three hundred years and he had, as a boy, learnt how to till the land. Now that he had done his share with the sword, he would gladly return to the plough.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Pilot Cool In Face Of Danger

Vienna, Oct. 23.

Passengers by the Imperial Airways liner had a miraculous escape from death when the plane in which they were travelling from Vienna to London crashed in wooded country in Lower Austria. The machine was driving through a storm when heavy cakes of ice formed on the wings and she was gradually forced down. Only the skill and coolness of the pilot, saved the passengers from certain death and all escaped without a scratch. The pilot and telegraphist, however, sustained superficial injuries.

BRAZIL TO IGNORE SANCTIONS

London, Oct. 23.

News has been received from Rome to the effect that the Brazilian Government has informed the Italian Government that she does not consider herself under any obligation to apply sanctions against Italy.

Brazil is not a League member and this decision has particular significance in view of Sir Samuel Hoare's expression of hope that the imposition of sanctions would not be frustrated by non-members. It is felt here that Brazil's example might possibly be followed by other non-members and this would naturally stiffen Italy's attitude when further peace discussions are under way.

U.S. WAR SECRETARY IN NANKING

Nanking, Oct. 23.

The American War Secretary, Mr. George H. Dern and party arrived from Shanghai this morning and received greetings from a large group of Chinese and American officials. He spent the morning sight-seeing, including a visit to the Sun Yat Sen Mausoleum.

Mr. Dern later called on Mr. Wang Ching-wei and in the afternoon attended General Ho Ying-ching's tea party at which 1,600 attended. Mr. Wang is entertaining the visitor at dinner to-night and the latter will return to Shanghai by the midnight express.

SIR AUSTEN'S VIEWS

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Paris, Oct. 22. Great Britain will recoil from no measure, however far reaching should the League of Nations deem it necessary, said Sir Austen Chamberlain in an interview published in the Paris paper, "Marianne," in the course of which Sir Austen discussed the British attitude towards the Italo-Abyssinian conflict, as well as the scope of the Locarno Treaty.

Only the friendly alliance between France and Britain can bring about their common reconciliation with Germany whose withdrawal from the League does not affect the Locarno arrangements, added the ex-British Foreign Minister.

Sir Austen went on to say that although the Locarno Treaty is adequate, it would be a good thing if the Air Convention could be concluded as soon as possible between France, Britain, Germany and Italy. The British Government, so Sir Austen concluded, is determined that Britain shall have an air fleet equal to any nation by whom she can be attacked.

CHINA'S PROVINCES IN THE NORTH

Co-operation With Japan Or Separation

Shanghai, October 23.

A threat that Japan would move to separate the North China provinces from the control of Nanking unless the Central Government co-operates with the Japanese was contained in a statement issued by a spokesman at the Japanese Embassy here.

The spokesman said that Chinese fears of a Japanese-sponsored movement for the separation of North China from Nanking, would be warranted "only if Nanking intends to refuse to co-operate with the Japanese in promoting the developing of a natural economic affinity between North China and Manchukuo, and in combating communistic influences working through Outer Mongolia."

Such fears have been in evidence for some time, and were heightened by Dairen dispatches regarding the conference of the Kwangtung army leaders there with respect to North China.

AUTHORITIES ALERT

Peiping, Oct. 23.

Concerning the disturbances in the districts bordering the demilitarized zone, information received this evening stated that the disturbance is not likely to spread to Sanho, a city neighbouring Hsiangho. As the local police and military at Sanho have been keeping close surveillance over the turbulent farmers, the situation is unlikely to develop into serious dimensions.

With reference to the situation at Hsiangho, it was understood that order in the city was well maintained by local police. In the outskirts of the city, however, more farmers gathered in the villages and their number was growing rapidly into menacing proportions. The authorities are now taking steps to disperse the crowd.

The statement was viewed as significant in the light of recent developments.

NANKING ACTIVITY

Nanking, Oct. 23.

In view of the stiffening Japanese army attitude towards China, General Chiang Kai Shek is making an effort to consolidate the National Government's military and political strength in central and west China.

The last few days have seen the largest pouring in of troops in the Nanking area since 1932, when the fighting with the Japanese at Shanghai was in progress.

Chiang completed three days of conferences with high government officials here and left on Monday for Fenghua, his native place in Chekiang province.

Officials are frankly concerned over advices from Dairen that the Japanese army is prepared to demilitarization of all provinces north of the Yellow river unless all sources of friction in that area are uprooted, leading to possible political divorce from Nanking.

Japan's revised policies towards China are expected to be explained to the Chinese leaders by Ambassador Akira Ariyoshi when he comes to Nanking following the Shanghai conference of Japanese diplomatic and military authorities.

REVOLT OF FARMERS

Peiping, Oct. 22.

Pai Chen-wu, the man who led the abortive attack on Peiping a few weeks ago, is allegedly behind the self-government movement at present spreading in North China.

Moreover, it is revealed that Japanese gendarmes sent from Peiping arrested six Japanese ronins at Hsiangho, where fighting occurred yesterday between farmers and the town guards. The Japanese were allegedly fighting side-by-side with the farmers. One man was killed and several wounded.

The ronins were searched and cross-examined and were later sent under guard to Tientsin. It is learned in reliable sources that the revolt at Hsiangho was organized and led by a rich farmer, who was backed by at least 1,000 farmers. Under his direction they demand the abolition of the land taxes and self-government throughout the hien.

Well informed quarters assert that the movement is being fostered by elements antipathetic to the present North China regime and that the demand for self-government is likely to spread throughout the demilitarized zone. The same movement has a ready-made appearance at Changling, thirty miles north of Peiping, where a body of farmers has demonstrated before the hien magistrate.

The name of Pai Chen-wu is being freely linked with all these developments.

SWATOW TAX DISPUTE

Settled Amicably On The Spot

Canton, Oct. 23.

A semi-official report to-day disclosed that the rice and beans detained by the Gityang County Kuomintang, which really belonged to Chinese and not Japanese merchants, were released to the owners after paying the agricultural special tax.

The goods detained were sold by Japanese merchants to Chinese dealers at Swatow, who shipped the agricultural products to Kityang without paying the tax. The magistrate of Kityang therefore detained the goods under authority of the tax regulations.

Japanese merchants in Swatow declared that the merchandise belonged to them, because although the goods were delivered to the Chinese, payment was not yet made. Mr. C. Harada, Japanese Consul in Swatow, represented to the Chinese municipal authorities that the title to the goods still remained with the Japanese merchants and not with the Chinese buyers.

The Japanese Consul objected to payment of the agricultural tax by his nationals, although he conceded that Customs duties should be paid.

The Chinese authorities successfully argued that payment was not the act of ownership and that title to the goods was passed by delivery to the Chinese merchants, who are liable to pay the agricultural tax.

Chinese merchants paid the tax on September 18, whereupon the goods were released. Similar cases in the future will be settled in the same way, and further incidents will be unlikely. The Japanese warships left Swatow on October 17.

It transpires that Rear-Admiral S. Shimomura of the Fifth Destroyer Squadron called on Lieut. General Li Han-yun, Pacification Commissioner in Swatow, and discussed the matter informally, both being in agreement that the matter be settled amicably on the spot.

MORE SERIOUS THAN COVENANT OF THE LEAGUE

Breach By Italy of Pact Of Paris

LORD CREWE STATES HIS VIEWS

Commission To Eritrea Suggested

London, October 23.

Debates on the international situation will be continued in both Houses of Parliament this afternoon. The first speaker in the Commons will be the Prime Minister, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, and other ministers as well as leading elder statesmen will take part.

In the House of Lords last night, the Liberal leader of the House, Lord Crewe, expressed the view that breach by Italy of her obligation under the Pact of Paris was even more serious than her breach of the Covenant of the League, not merely because it was a more recent obligation but because its terms were more definite and explicit than those of the Covenant.

The League, he added, if it were to retain any prestige, must see this thing through. He hoped therefore that the Government in conference with other members would continue to press for and even insist on early discussion of what the terms of final settlement were to be. Those terms ought not to depend upon the success or failure of the Italian campaign. The settlement ought to be considered in abstract without reference to what might happen in Abyssinia.

Lord Hardinge said Italy's aggressive attack could not be sufficiently condemned, but he had no sympathy with the Abyssinian Government who had broken pledges just as Italy had done and had entirely ignored the conditions under which they had entered the League of Nations.

He urged the Government to refrain from any sanctions which might be interpreted as being of military character and might precipitate war.

Lord Mottison suggested that a small commission should go to Eritrea, and another possibly to Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, and report fully to the League of Nations.

IN THE COMMONS

London, Oct. 23.

The House of Commons met today at 2.45 p.m. in an atmosphere charged with excitement. The House and galleries were crowded; there was a full attendance of Ministers and Opposition; everyone hung on the words of the Foreign Minister, Sir Samuel Hoare, who has been directing British diplomacy at Geneva in the days of crisis, and opened the debate on foreign affairs.

While events moved with great rapidity, declared the Foreign Minister, British policies had remained unchanged. The greatest source of comfort is the unbroken solidarity of the British Empire, particularly the Dominions, whose representatives acting as co-equals, considering their own interests and obligations, had shown the world and Britain that they have the same outlook on principles of international conduct.

"We are earnestly trying to make the position of the League Covenant succeed, because we are convinced that if it fails the world, and Europe particularly, will be faced with a period of almost unbelievable danger and gloom," Sir Samuel asserted.

CRITICISMS REFUTATED

The Foreign Secretary repudiated the criticisms that Britain's representative on the League Council, Mr. Anthony Eden, Minister for League Affairs, was constantly exceeding his instructions and taking the lead where no lead should be taken.

"Let me once and for all dissipate this myth," Sir Samuel insisted. "Mr. Eden with great ability has been carrying out the policy of the united Government. The only difference between us is that while I express my views fully and frankly, with little emotion, he acts with brilliance and charm in everything he says."

"With regard to the charge that Great Britain is taking the lead at Geneva, the representatives of the British Empire can never take a secondary part in any great international discussion," he warned.

LEFT NO DOUBT

Britain had left Italy no doubt whatever as to her attitude. Britain believed that economic sanctions, collectively applied and not frustrated by non-members of the League, would definitely shorten the duration of the Ethiopian war.

The French answer to the British inquiry with respect to a possible attack by Italy upon British units of the Fleet in the Mediterranean had been complete and satisfactory. The Foreign Secretary went on. The solidarity of Great Britain and France had been established definitely. In the event of an isolated attack, Britain, France and the League would stand together and resist it with the full united force of all League allies.

NO DISCUSSION

"We do not intend to act alone. There has been no discussion at Geneva of military sanctions and no such measures form any part of our policy. Not a week has passed without our expressing our readiness to participate in bringing about an honourable settlement, acceptable to Italy, the League and Ethiopia."

"There is still a breathing-space before economic sanctions are applied, and pressure brought to bear. Cannot it be used for an eleventh-hour attempt at a peaceful settlement, as to make it unnecessary before economic sanctions are applied to proceed further against a fellow-member of the League, an old friend and former ally?" he pleaded.

STAND WELCOMED

Major Clement R. Attlee, leader of the Labour Opposition, declared that his party's policy was based on the need for subordinating personal considerations to those of the League and ultimately of a great world economic commonwealth.

He welcomed Sir Samuel Hoare's stand for the League Covenant, but criticised the Government's earlier inaction. He said the present position was largely due to the League's and Britain's failure to act in the Sino-Japanese dispute.

Labour supported economic sanctions and the League system, but the League must face realities in the future.

MATTER FOR THE LEAGUE

He urged the Government to get rid of every suspicion of being not disinterested in the Ethiopian question by scrapping any advantage which past treaties gave to Britain. The Nile water supply should be a matter for the League, while Egypt should be relieved from its present relationship with Great Britain and the Sudan should be administered under a League mandate.

Major Attlee criticised the Government's rearmament policy and said that Labourites were prepared to support such armament as was necessary to fulfil Britain's League obligations, but they would not give the Government a blank cheque.

Labour would go to the polls with a programme of socialism and peace, convinced that they were inseparable.

SIR SAMUEL'S SPEECH

French Press Opinion

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press").

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, October 23, 4.30 p.m.)

Paris, Oct. 23.

Emphasis is laid on collective action in the application of sanctions by Sir Samuel Hoare in his House of Commons speech on Tuesday, which is noted by the majority of papers with satisfaction. Columns were devoted to the British Foreign Minister's declaration.

It was apparent that in the main the speech professed a belief in collective security, writes "Le Jour," adding, however, that England was rather late in declaring her adhesion to this principle.

Not only the British Government but the whole of the British nation are now behind the idea of collective security, maintains "Le Nouveau" and one ought to realise in France what this means for the future.

LUKEWARM COMMENT

Rome, Oct. 23.

Only the Italian newspaper "Popolo de Roma" had any comment to make on Sir Samuel Hoare's speech in the Commons yesterday, but the comment is couched in extremely lukewarm tones.

The paper's headlines described Sir Samuel Hoare's speech as "merely a prudent discourse for internal consumption" and the paper goes on to say that Italy is still awaiting from England word of a practical nature, designed to settle the differences between the two countries.

Reuter.

SPEECH WELCOMED

Paris, Oct. 23.

"Le Matin" welcomes Sir Samuel Hoare's speech "not only for clarifying the future role of Britain in the Italo-Abyssinian dispute but also for creating a general quietening feeling in the air as a prelude to a peaceful settlement of the whole affair."

Some other papers, however, regard the speech as having been influenced to some extent by the British forthcoming general election, hinting that the British Foreign Minister did not speak as freely as he might have done in other circumstances.

Reuter.

BRITISH VIEWS

London, Oct. 23.

Commenting on to-day's foreign affairs debate in the House of Commons, the "Daily Telegraph" says that inasmuch as a continuance of Ethiopian war rests in the hands of Signor Mussolini, one of the most important passages in Sir Samuel Hoare's speech was that in which he made a direct and powerful appeal to Italy.

The "News Chronicle" is suspicious of the Government's contemplation of once more a half-hearted policy, which without condoning Italy's flagrant breach of the Covenant is incapable of bringing the aggressor to book.

The "Daily Herald" says Sir Samuel Hoare's speech was a gloomy confirmation of all the deepening anxieties and growing suspicions of the Government's foreign policy.

ETHIOPIANS PREPARE FOR BATTLE

War Minister At Head Of Troops

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press").

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, October 23, 7.30 p.m.)

Addis Ababa, Oct. 23.

The Abyssinian War Minister, Ras Mulageta, who left here last week at the head of the army, has taken over the entire command of the Abyssinian forces on the north front, where, according to reports circulating here, the Italian attack is awaited at any moment.

The first command issued to Ras Seyoum was to hold the present lines around Adowa and Makale at any price. The Abyssinian Tigre army, according to an Abyssinian military source, is concentrating chiefly on the line north of the mountains between Edaga and Hamle Range, averaging 2,500 metres, at an altitude of fifty kilometres south of Makale with forces numbering 150,000. The chief Italian army is fortified around Adowa.

According to reports from travellers from Lake Rudolf district, the ex-Emperor of Abyssinia, Lidsch Jassu, who was disposed eighteen years ago by the present Negus, is being kept under strong guard near the fortified British colony of Kenya, in the extreme south-west of Abyssinia as far removed from Italian influence as is possible, for fear he should fall into Italian hands and be proclaimed the rightful Emperor.

The Negus who left the capital on Tuesday returned again to the Palace after a short airplane reconnaissance flight, and proposes to leave for the front on Thursday, after receiving Prince Ismail Daud, brother-in-law of King Fuad, who is heading the Egyptian Red Cross to Abyssinia.

ITALIAN DENIALS

Asmara, Oct. 23.

Assertions that Italian planes had bombed open towns or used poison gas, are declared to be utterly untrue by the Italian Propaganda Minister, Count Ciano, who is at present accompanying the air fleet.

Ciano added that it had been always the endeavour of the Italians to spare the civil population of Abyssinia any undue fright. Moreover it is easy for the Italian airmen to recognise Abyssinian fighting forces which habitually camp outside inhabited areas.

NOTHING TO REPORT

Rome, Oct. 23.

There is nothing to report on the two fronts. The population in the occupied territory have resumed their normal aspect, declares a telegram from General de Bono published as an official communiqué.

Official quarters maintain reserve as regards Sir Samuel Hoare's speech, but there is a feeling of relief that the Italians are more hopeful of a settlement being reached and sanctions being avoided.

Reuter.

THE BIG PUSH

Asmara, Oct. 22.

Many here believe that it will be the end of November before a big battle is fought on the northern front, failing a diplomatic move for settlement of the whole trouble meanwhile.

The Italian military staff is unaware of any Ethiopian concentration in the region of Ambalagi, to the south of Makale, and believe concentration such as would be required if the Ethiopians seriously considered an offensive would take a month at least to complete, owing to the lack of communication and the absence of transport. The question of a food supply for a great army would have to be considered also, and there has been no sign of activity in this direction.

The Italian aerial reconnaissance, however, continues to be most active, and flying officers have located columns, presumed to be commanded by Ras Kassa, marching north from Addis Ababa to join Ras Seyoum's troops in the defence of Makale.

FORCES DISCOVERED

Further strong Ethiopian forces have been discovered near Gondar, beyond Takaze, but there are relatively few tribesmen near the Italian lines in Tigre province and no great resistance is expected before Makale.

Makale is admittedly the objective of the next Italian thrust from the north.

It is learned from Harar that the southern front is at present calm, but it is reported that a number of Italian troops are being transferred from Eritrea to Italian Somaliland in preparation for the beginning of operations in Ogaden.

Reuter.

GENERAL MOBILISATION

Addis Ababa, Oct. 22.

Ras Getachew, governor of the province of Madshl near the Sudanese frontier, arrived here on Tuesday with thirty thousand men shortly after the army of Dedjas Abeba, Governor of the province of Gefa, had left the capital for the front.

Troops of the governor of the province of Wollega, Bidwoded Mokannens, numbering about thirty-five thousand men, are expected to reach here shortly, whereby the general mobilisation will be completed and a total of one million one hundred thousand men will be under colours.

It is expected that the entire army will have taken up all the strategic positions by the end of October. The Emperor personally examined some of the hand grenades which formed part of the most recent supply of war materials delivered here from abroad.

REPORTS FROM FRONT

Reports from the southern front state that Italians fliers had again dropped bombs in the region of the Webbe Shibel river and that Italian patrols are reconnoitring under the cover of artillery fire. On the Northern front the concentration of Italian troops is reported in the south of Adowa while everything is stated to be quiet on the Setit river sector in the north-west corner of the Empire.

News of the defeat of Ras Ayela, who is commanding the troops operating between the Italian right wing and the Sudanese frontier has been confirmed in official quarters here who admit that the Abyssinian losses amount to several hundred killed and wounded. It is added that the Abyssinians attacked the Italian positions against the Emperor's orders and that Ras Ayela was unable to hold them back. An airplane has left the capital with a doctor on board, presumably to bring Ras Ayela, who was himself wounded, back to the capital.

CONFERENCE IN LONDON

Naval Limitation Attempt

London, Oct. 23.

Although no invitations have yet been issued it is probable that a naval conference will be held in London before the end of the year to attempt to reach a new naval limitation agreement to take the place of the Washington and London Treaties, which expire at the end of next year.

In anticipation of such a conference which is provided for under these treaties the powers which are parties to them have been consulted during recent months and considerable progress has been made.

In well-informed quarters the hope is expressed that if difficulties in the way of agreement upon quantitative limitation should prove insuperable, useful work may be done by the new conference by agreeing upon qualitative limitations.

The powers participating in the conference would be Britain, United States, Japan, France and Italy.

HOCKEY

In a fast and clean hockey game at the Shamshupo ground yesterday, the Lincolns trounced the Hong Kong Brigade of the H.K.S.R.A. to the tune of 5 goals to 1.

The Lincolns were superior in all departments of the game and they scored three times in the first half through Harrison and Reeks, the latter scoring two.

At the resumption they scored again through Driver, and this was followed with another from Taylor after a smart movement by the forwards.

CLUB WINS

The Hong Kong Hockey Club beat the Y.M.C.A. by three goals to one in their hockey match played at King's Park yesterday.

The game throughout was scrappy with the loggers making great efforts to reduce the deficit. The Y.M.C.A. were two goals to the bad at half time, N. A. E. Mackay and Divett having scored for the Club.

In the second half Divett scored the third goal for the Club. The efforts of the Y.M.C.A. were rewarded at last when shortly before the finish S. Fowler scored for them from a very difficult angle.

The score now reads, Alekhine five wins, Euwe two, and two drawn. The next game taken place at Gouda on Thursday.

ARMY TENNIS

Staff Sergt. Warr's Success

In the final of the Army Single Championship, which was played at the Area Sports ground, Soekumpo yesterday, Staff Sgt. Warr beat Sgt. Wilson 6-3, 6-4.

The game was very exciting throughout, with Warr being always the better player. By his good-length drives he managed to keep Wilson at the baseline most of the time, and usually finished off with a nice cross court shot. Wilson indulged too much in the "chop shot", which often gave his opponent the opportunity of bringing off a nice forehand drive. Staff Sgt. Warr is a very steady player with a hard forehand drive; he has played quite a lot of tennis at Home and was in the semi-finals of the Army Championship in England.

WOMAN SAILOR

Back To Australia In A Grain Ship

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 19.

Mrs. Douglas Duff, a young London woman who served before the mast as an ordinary seaman aboard the Finnish four-masted barque Ponape on its voyage from Australia to England this summer, left Deal beach this morning to board the Ponape for Australia. This time she is an apprentice.

Mrs. Duff is the widow of Major Douglas Duff, of the 9th Lancers. She said to me to-day, writes a correspondent.

"The Ponape sailed from Port Lincoln, South Australia. After a voyage round Cape Horn, which lasted 18 weeks, we docked our cargo of grain at London on Aug. 14 last.

"I love all kinds of sport, but the sea most of all. While the Ponape has been windbound off Deal for the past two weeks I have been visiting my mother, Mrs. Reynolds Teyton, at her home at Folkestone. But during this time I have frequently visited the sailing ship.

"For a change I have flown over it just to see what it looks like from the air. I hold an air pilot's A certificate.

"When I am abroad I am an ordinary member of the crew. If it is my job to go aloft I go.

"I understand that this time we sail northward around Scotland, and then on an eastward voyage via the Cape of Good Hope to Australia. We hope to be there in time for Christmas."

COPIES OF THE 1935 EDITION

For irritable Children

In the "Strand Magazine" of March 1933, the well-known food expert, Miss Kathleen Dane, writes:

"Many children of the irritable, nervous type, owe their state to a deficiency of organic salts, particularly calcium, notwithstanding the fact that the dietary appears to be properly balanced. Such youngsters do well when the diet is reinforced by a well-retained mineral food, such as 'Kalzana,' which medical men all over the country are now recommending."

Your quickly-growing child needs extra calcium to help the formation of straight bones, healthy teeth, and a strong constitution. Start your boy or girl on a course of Kalzana—you will be surprised at the all-around improvement Kalzana effects. Irritability disappears, appetite returns and soon the formerly "difficult" child will be a happy, healthy youngster again.

The Proven STOMACH REMEDY for Bad Cases

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pains can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of 'Bisurated' Magnesia to be the quickest-acting and most effective known to medical science. Within 5 minutes a teaspoonful of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in a little water produced complete relief in cases where numberless other remedies had failed entirely.

Its Action Explained—

Simply take a teaspoonful of the powder in a little water. The moment this soothing draught reaches the tortured stomach it begins to soothe the acid, fermenting undigested food. The contents of the stomach become bland and soothing as milk to the sensitive stomach lining. The pain quickly lessens and presently disappears. By following up the treatment after each meal, your harassed stomach will soon lose its underness and grow strong, until you can eat whatever you like and enjoy every meal, without fear of wind and pain.

A NOTED ENGLISH DOCTOR SAYS:

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

H. G. — M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

ANOTHER DOCTOR SAYS:

"'Bisurated' Magnesia gives excellent results and is the ideal remedy for stomach pains and acidity. It is particularly recommended for Dyspepsia, Gastritis, Stomach Pains, Flatulence, and even Stomach Ulcers."

H. L. — Faculty of Medicine, Paris.

THE CRIMINAL SESSIONS

Murder Case Adjourned Till This Morning

Harbouring a grudge that they had been deprived of their lands by a stranger who had obtained possession from the Crown, a gang of 14 men hatched a plot in which the new possessor was to be dealt with by them. This resulted in the appearance of four men, Fun Gam Cho, Ho Wah, Ho Yau and Lau Cheung before the chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor at the Criminal Sessions yesterday on a charge of the murder of Au Wan Fai at Chukowan Village, Lantau Island on September 1 last year. Another man named Pun Tak who was also indicted for the same offence was not present in Court due to illness.

Mr. W. J. Lockhart-Smith the Assistant Crown Solicitor appeared for the Crown while Messrs. H. C. Macnamara, and Harold Lee instructed by Messrs. Denny and Co., represented the accused.

The following jury were empanelled to hear the case: Messrs. F. Goodwin (Foreman), W. Robertson, G. Castle, C. A. Coello, Wong Tse Kwong, Chau Lok Chow and J. O. Sequeira.

After the jury had been chosen His Lordship warned them that if any one of them had any qualms about death sentence being passed on he was to say so then so that they might be exempted to sit and a new jury found. No objection was forthcoming.

THE FACTS

In setting forth the facts, before the Court Mr. Lockhart-Smith stated that the accused were all members of a gang of 14 men who murdered the deceased on September 1 last year. The deceased lived with his wife, his son and two daughters in three matchsheds in lower Chukowan village, Lantau Island.

Sometime in 1932, the deceased came over to the village from the island of Capsulmun. Having established himself here, he thought it a good idea to have his family over. He did so and later he and his son applied to the District Officer (South) for a permit for an area of land in the village. When he first arrived at the place, there were five squatters and their families. They were not legal tenants, and the deceased and his son applied for a permit for that area. They succeeded in obtaining the permit for this area and also two other areas of land to the north and north-west of the place where the squatters were.

EVICTED

As a result of this manoeuvre, the original inhabitants had to leave the place. They alleged that deceased asked them to pay rent, and on their refusal to do so, he evicted them from their huts.

On the day of the murder, the son of the dead man, was about to be married. The deceased and his wife had accumulated a sum of about $400 to $500 for the ceremony and that money had been stolen. But the ill-feeling among the villagers was undoubtedly due to deceased having acquired the land.

THE PLOT

Counsel then went on to refer to the plot to murder the deceased. The first thing the Crown knew of this was about ten days before the murder when the four accused, together with two others not in custody, were seen discussing the matter at the tea house in Ping Shan. The third accused was heard to offer five dollars for the murder of the deceased, while the fourth defendant offered three dollars.

About 5 p.m. on the day of the murder, four men—the second accused and three others not in custody—went to deceased's hut, ostensibly for a visit. The deceased and his family were in the hut at the time. After they had conversed on general matters for quite a long time, the deceased, who was a man of about 60 years of age, suggested going to sleep and invited one of the four men to go over to his hut which the occupied by himself. Two of the other four men then went out of the hut together with deceased's son, while the other remained with the dead man's wife and the two daughters. They remained there for some time when suddenly one of the men was heard shouting out "Woo!" Immediately afterwards ten men and boys appeared on the hillside, shouting "Ta!" (strike). The son was then attacked by his two companions, but he managed to escape by diving into the sea. He landed in a place nearby and proceeded to Hong Kong where he reported the matter to the police.

WIDOW'S EVIDENCE

Yip Choi widow of the deceased gave evidence corroborating the Crown's opening and then went on to describe the attack. Cross-examined by Mr. Macnamara witness affirmed that a moon was shining at the time of the attack and questioned as regards the weather and the wind velocity, she stated that it gained in intensity as the night went on. Questioned further witness reaffirmed her previous statement that she actually saw Li Tung Kwai assaulting her late husband and that the blood which was on the quilt might have been made from the wounds inflicted by that man.

THE SIGNAL

Questioned about the signal witness said that as soon as the "howl" was given the rest of the men rushed the hut and everything was so apparent that that must have been a prearranged signal. At this stage Mr. Macnamara warned the witness that what she was going to say will be of great importance to the defence because she was the only eye witness of the crime. Witness replied that whether it was important or not she was telling the truth.

THE ARRESTS

Acting Sub Inspector Darkin, officer in charge of Cheung Chau Police Station, stated that on September 2 last year, he received a report from the Water Police station regarding the crime and went to the scene. There he was given information and he made investigations at the nearest villages. He was brought to the Patankoo village by the deceased's son and there several huts were pointed to him but there were no traces of the persons named.

Mr. Harold Lee cross examined this witness who when shown a hook replied that he could not say whether the wounds were made by that instrument. The names of the people who were concerned in the crime were given to him by the deceased's son. He had no definite knowledge who the men were as he had never seen them before.

The case was then adjourned till this morning.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S CAR ESCAPE

Vehicle On Edge Of Precipice

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt came within an ace of being pitched from a narrow mountain track into a rocky valley hundreds of feet below, when their chauffeur took a wrong turning in the mountains of Nevada.

For seven miles the driver went along a road under construction which has not yet been opened to traffic.

Members of the Presidential party were horrified to see that only a few inches of crumbling gravel separated the President from destruction.

By what strange mischance the drive was taken without the elaborate precautions which normally precede every move made by the President is still a mystery. Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt were on their way to visit a civilian conservation corps camp, 30 miles from Las Vegas, accompanied by Mr. Harry Hopkins, the works progress administrator, and Senator Pittman.

ENGINE FAILS THREE TIMES

The old touring car in which they were travelling led a procession through the cactus-strewn desert to the mountains. Members of the White House secretarial staff, secret service men, and reporters followed in nine other cars.

Apparently nobody knew the country well enough to realize that the driver of the President's car had made a mistake when he turned on to an unpaved road

GOLD REEF ON THE RAND

10,000 Feet Below Surface

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 28.

The existence of a great new gold reef, at a depth of 10,000ft., and running the full extent of the present reef along the Witwatersrand, is announced by Mr. Hans Pirow, the South African Government mining engineer and brother of Mr. Oswald Pirow, Minister of Defence.

He estimated the value of the gold in the newly discovered reef which is 2,500ft. below the deepest mine now being worked on the Rand, at £280,000,000.

The Witwatersrand is already the world's greatest goldfield. It stretches over several hundreds of miles. The gold bearing area, however, is confined to a string of mines forming the rim of the basin for about 70 miles from Randfontein to the Sub Nigel, near Heidelberg.

The new reef, according to Mr. Pirow, is capable of yielding 200,000,000 tons of ore.

Hitherto it has not been possible to work mines below 7,500ft.—the depth of Village Deep. The temperature, and the humidity make conditions impossible. Village Deep had a special cooling system introduced last year.

Recent researches, however, have proved that it will be possible shortly to sink shafts to 10,000ft.—the depth at which, according to the geological formation, the new reef lies.

recently scooped from the hillside 0,000ft. above sea-level.

For miles the cars twisted round hairpin bends where fences had not been erected to protect motorists from falling over the steep precipices. Three times the engine of the President's car stalled on the steep grades.

When it was realised what had happened the cars were faced with a new danger, as there was practically no room to turn round. It took nearly half an hour for the President's car to do this.

Throughout the operation Mr. Roosevelt smoked cigarettes and made jokes. He was the only person present who did not appear to mind the predicament.

THE WOOLLEN INDUSTRY

Nanking (By Mail).

An expansion of the municipal-owned woollen textile factory, an organization of a woollen textile co-operative, and the opening of a woollen goods store to push the sale of local-made woollen goods constitute the paramount features of a plan of the Nanking Municipal Government to improve the woollen textile industry in the capital. In this regard, a project of co-operation has been drawn up between the city authorities and the University of Nanking whereby the former will bear the financial responsibility for the development of the industry while the latter will lend its help along technical lines.

TRAINING CLASSES

Encouraged by the results of the textile training class held under the joint auspices of the municipal government and the university, which was graduated last month, the two organizations have decided to continue opening the class.

A total of $2,000 has been appropriated from the municipal treasury for the continuance of the class. While the class will be conducted by the university as previously, technical staff members of various government or municipal government and assigned to the class to be trained in the textile art. The new class is expected to be opened early next month and will be graduated in about a year's time.

The textile factory, which was founded last year under the joint auspices of the municipal government and the university, will be enlarged. A comprehensive extension scheme has already been worked out by the factory management and approved by the municipal authorities. A sum of $1,000 has been appropriated by the municipal government for financing the scheme.

INCREASED EQUIPMENT

In general the plan calls for the enlargement of its premises, the increase of equipment and the improvement of technique. The laboratories and exhibition rooms in the factory, according to the project, will be enlarged. A number of new textile machinery will be purchased from abroad.

With regard to the improvement of textile technique, it is understood that durability of the woollen and cotton goods produced and new patterns will be emphasized. Only native raw materials will be used for the manufacture of the textile goods.

To effect co-operation between various textile manufacturers and experts in the city a Nanking Textile Co-operative Society will be organized. Regulations governing the organization of the society

GERMAN SHARE MARKET

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, Oct. 22.
Share market business proved disappointing on Tuesday because of the renewed uncertainty of the foreign political situation. Good industrial reports certainly produced favourable effects on the shares concerned, but did not influence the situation as a whole. Fixed Interest Securities were not in great demand, but price alterations were chiefly in the upward state and Provincial Loans were friendly.

Call Money which on Monday was 1 to 1 1/2, on Tuesday, was quoted at 1. Young Loan improved 1/2 to 102 1/2. Reich Banks unchanged at 17 1/2. Dytrusts dropped 1/2 to 143 1/2. Salzdorf Potash were unquoted (on Monday 151). German Steel Trusts were 1/2 lower at 8 1/2. German Mineral Oils were down 1/2 at 105. Siemens-Schuckert dropped 1/2 to 189 1/2, and Bemberg Rayon were 1/2 lower at 107 1/2.
